It is not American to restrict a company like XM or Sirius from broadcasting what the customers want to hear. What is the difference between Sat Radio and FM radio? Nothing, they are both businesses trying to survive in a very competitive environment. One uses commercials to make money. The other uses subscription fees. Both should be able to broadcast local content with no restrictions. The FCC has no reason to interfere with fair business and prevent Sat radio from giving Local Traffic and weather or even local advertising.
